

Tyler Wren

CAREER EXPERTS

Why Join The Tyler Wren Team?

Our team is tight knit, collaborative and looking forward to having fresh faces join us to thrive. We are passionate about changing people's lives, however we also cherish our team culture, the supportive environment and developing ourselves to further our (and each others) careers - we are a tad protective of what we have as an office and team!

We are a pretty down to earth, diverse bunch who enjoy banter and have a good sense of humour. Full disclosure, you must love dogs, as our furry friends are often in the office. We work hard but utilise our flexible working and work from home policies. We are all experienced supportive, motivating and strong mentors along with top recruiters.

We have a pretty unique model to offer clients and candidates with our lovely Vikki based in the UK. Vikki is an expert with many years of experience, she tracks candidates for us to place on their return or relocation to New Zealand and Australia.

We are not afraid to admit that recruitment has its challenges but it also has its rewards, and we love to celebrate our successes with regular team outings, lunches, dinners and we like to include our wider families.

Our office culture is second to none - we work hard and banter, banter, banter. We are incredibly social and over the last little while we have been to vineyards, zip-lining, climbed the harbour bridge, became a little competitive at bowls & the list goes on

There is a whole host of benefits the team receive...some more obscure and linked to the modern-day challenges we all face and some more traditional yet equally as important.

Intrigued?

So why do our clients and candidates choose us?

We often have our furry friends in the office - Dotty, Boon, Kobe, Panda, Nala and Brutus are the last check of our employment process and they need to give their very informed approval before you can start.

Dotty & Boon (left) are our entertainment experts, always on hand to meet and greet our visitors with particular expertise in cuddles and sitting on laps.

On a final note, our Directors are a hoot and will support you and the team through every obstacle - including how and when to become our latest hire and join us!
